(11) Any person who is aggrieved by a decision to refuse registration or renewal of registration, may within 28 days after being notified in writing of the decision appeal to the Supreme Court against the decision by notice in writing setting out the grounds of appeal, and the Supreme Court shall decide the appeal and make such order in the appeal as seems just.

(12) A decision to refuse registration or to refuse to renew registration takes effect immediately, unless the court hearing the appeal otherwise directs.

 - (c) shall be addressed to the Committee;
 - (d) shall set out the matters alleged to constitute grounds for disciplinary action to be taken against the registered person who is the subject of the complaint; and
 - (e) may be required by the Committee to be in a form approved by the Committee.
- (6) Where—
- (a) in the absence of a complaint made under subsection (2), a matter comes to the attention of the Committee which appears to constitute grounds for disciplinary action against a registered person; or
 - (b) a complaint is made under subsection (2) but the matter is withdrawn, the Committee may treat, or continue to treat, the matter as if it were a complaint made under subsection (2).

(7) Schedule 3 has effect as to the appointment and proceedings of the Committee and other matters relating to the Committee.

Investigation by Committee

23 (1) Where a complaint is made (or treated as made) under section 22(2), the Committee shall investigate the complaint and determine whether, in its opinion, the complaint—

(6) If the Committee considers that a complaint arose from a misapprehension on the part of the complainant or a misunderstanding between the complainant and the registered person complained of, the Committee may, before proceeding further with the investigation of the complaint, require the parties to appear before it in order to discuss the matter with a view to clarifying the misapprehension or misunderstanding and resolving the matter informally.

(7) The Committee may recommend to the Council that guidelines on future conduct be issued by the Council to all registered practitioners, to all assistants, or to all registered persons concerning any of the matters coming to the Committee's attention in the course of the investigation.

(4) Following its inquiry, the Council shall make a decision as to whether the complaint is proved or not proved, in whole or in part, together with reasons for its decision.

(5) If the Council decides that a complaint is not proved, in whole or in part, it shall dismiss the complaint to the extent that it is not proved.

(6) If the Council decides that a complaint is proved, in whole or in part, it shall record a finding to that effect and it may, pursuant to its disciplinary powers under section 25, make any order of a disciplinary nature as it sees fit in respect of a registered person against whom the complaint is made.

(7) The Council shall give written notice to the complainant and the registered person against whom a complaint is made of its decision under subsection (4) and any order made by the Council under subsection (6), together with reasons.

(11) A person who is suspended from practice under this section shall, for the duration of the suspension, be deemed not to be registered.

Disciplinary powers of Council

25 (1) In addition to the powers conferred by section 20(1), the Council may—

Civil penalties

26 (1) Where a court finds a registered person guilty of an offence and the circumstances of the offence form, in whole or in part, the subject matter of a complaint under this Act, the court shall take into account a civil penalty imposed under section 25(1)(c) in respect of the complaint when sentencing the registered person.

(2) The Council may, in relation to a penalty imposed on a registered person under section 25(1)(c)—

Code of conduct

27 (1) It shall be the duty of the appropriate authority to prepare, and from time to time amend, after consultation with the Council, a code of conduct which the appropriate authority considers to be conduct and standards that are proper for registered practitioners and for assistants in a professional respect (hereinafter referred to as "the Code").

ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS BILL 2018

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

This Bill (“this Act”) would repeal the Allied Health Professions Act 1973 and re-enact that Act with amendments. Chiropractors and certain other new specified professions would be regulated under this Act, and the Chiropractors Act 2002 would be repealed.

Clause 1 is self-explanatory.

Clause 2 defines the various expressions used in this Act. It also provides that the Council for Allied Health Professions (“the Council”) shall, so far as is practicable, discharge its functions under this Act after consultation with members of the specified profession concerned or, where there is a Board for the specified profession, after consultation with the Board.

Clause 3 provides that this Act is not to apply in relation to the practice of a specified profession by a person who is an officer or employee of certain armed forces on, or in relation to, a person who is a member of such a force, the family of such a member, or a person who is employed directly by such a force.

Clause 4 provides for the appointment and constitution of the Council, and gives the provisions contained in Schedule 2 effect with respect to the Council.

Clause 5 lists the functions of Council.

Clause 6 provides for application for designation as a specified profession to be made to the Minister by an association of members of a health profession, or (if there is no association) any members of a health profession. After receiving an application, the Minister may either approve or refuse to approve the application without investigation, or conduct an investigation in accordance with clause 8 to determine whether a health profession should be designated.

Clause 7 provides that the Minister may, in the absence of an application under clause 6, on his own initiative conduct an investigation to determine whether a health profession should be designated.

Clause 8 sets out the procedure for an investigation regarding designation of a specified profession.

Clause 9 provides that, if the Minister determines that a health profession should be a specified profession, he shall so designate the profession and add it to Schedule 1 in accordance with clause 10. If the Minister determines that it is contrary to the public interest to designate the health profession as a specified profession, the Minister shall refuse the application and provide the applicant with reasons for the refusal.

Clause 10 provides that the Minister may by order amend Schedule 1 by: (a) varying the definition or style of any specified profession, or (b) adding any profession thereto or removing any profession therefrom. A person practising a new specified profession in Bermuda may temporarily continue to so practise without being registered in that profession until such date as is appointed by the Minister in the order adding the specified profession to Schedule 1. The order may include such other transitional provisions as the Minister thinks necessary. The negative resolution procedure shall apply to the order.

Clause 11 provides for the constitution of Boards. Each Board consists of a Chairman appointed by the Minister, and other members elected from among registered practitioners practising the specified profession or specified professions for which the Board is established. Where a specified profession is added to Schedule 1, the Minister shall, after consultation with the Council, determine whether the persons lawfully practising the specified profession shall: (a) be regulated by the Council, (b) be regulated by an existing Board, or (c) be regulated by a new Board. The Minister may, after consultation with the Council, if he is of the opinion that it is in the public interest to do so, establish a new Board or, after consulting a Board, abolish the Board.

Clause 12 lists the functions of Boards.

Clause 13 provides for the Minister to designate, on such terms and conditions as are necessary for the proper carrying out of the provisions of this Act, a person to be the Registrar of Allied Health Professions (“the Registrar”).

Clause 14 provides for the form and content of the register, for the maintenance of the register by the Registrar, for its availability for inspection, and for its publication.

Clause 15 provides the procedure for an application for registration by a person who seeks to practise a specified profession in Bermuda or to be an assistant in a specified profession in Bermuda, and the determination of such applications. Any person who is aggrieved by a decision to refuse registration or renewal of registration may, within 28 days after being notified in writing of the decision, appeal to the Supreme Court against the decision.

Clause 16 provides that the registration of a “registered person” (a registered practitioner or an assistant) has effect for a period of two years from the date of his registration or such shorter period as may be specified in the certificate of registration issued to him.

Clause 17 sets out the requirements for the renewal of registration. The Council may cause to be removed from the register the name of any person who fails to renew his registration or whose application for renewal is refused.

Clause 18 provides for proof of registration. The Registrar may issue a certificate regarding a person’s registration. The certificate would be admissible in any proceedings as prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

Clause 19 provides that, where a registered person intends to be absent from Bermuda, to practise outside Bermuda, or to refrain from practising in Bermuda, for a period of more than 12 months, he may apply to the Council to have his registration designated as inactive and shall return his certificate to the Registrar. The Council shall direct the Registrar to enter a notation on the register indicating inactive status. A person whose registration is designated as inactive and who seeks to return to practise in Bermuda may apply to the Council for reissue of his certificate.

ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS BILL 2018

Clause 20 provides for the Council to direct the removal of a person's name from the register in certain circumstances. Any person aggrieved by a direction of the Council may, within 28 days from the date of receiving notice of the direction, appeal against the direction to the Supreme Court.

Clause 21 provides that a person whose name is removed from the register may be registered in the register again only if a direction to that effect is given by the Council on the application of that person.

Clause 22 establishes the Allied Health Professional Conduct Committee ("the Committee"). Complaints against a registered person may be made to the Committee, and it is the Committee's function to investigate such complaints. Schedule 3 provides for the appointment and proceedings of the Committee and other matters relating to the Committee.

Clause 23 provides the procedure for the investigation of complaints by the Committee. The Committee informs the Council of its findings and may make such recommendations as it thinks fit to the Council, including a recommendation that no further action be taken. Before imposing any disciplinary measure, the Council must review any documents or information submitted to it by the Committee.

Clause 24 provides that if, pursuant to an investigation under clause 23, the Committee places the matter before the Council for determination, the Council shall inquire into the matter. The procedure for determination of the matter by the Council is set out in this clause. Following its inquiry, the Council makes a decision as to whether the complaint is proved or not proved, in whole or in part, together with reasons for its decision. The registered person against whom the complaint is made may appeal to the Supreme Court against a decision of the Council within 28 days of receiving written notice thereof.

Clause 25 lists the disciplinary powers of Council. One of the disciplinary penalties that may be imposed by the Council is a civil penalty of an amount not exceeding $2,000.

Clause 26 provides that where a court finds a registered person guilty of an offence and the circumstances of the offence form, in whole or in part, the subject matter of a complaint under this Act, the court shall take into account a civil penalty imposed under clause 25 in respect of the complaint when sentencing the registered person. It also provides that a penalty imposed under clause 25 is recoverable by the Crown as a debt. If a person fails to pay a penalty imposed under clause 25, the Council may direct the Registrar to remove the person's name from the register.

Clause 27 provides that it shall be the duty of the "appropriate authority" (the relevant Board, if a Board is established for that specified profession, or the Council if no Board is established for the specified profession) to prepare, and from time to time amend, after consultation with the Council (if the appropriate authority is a Board), a code of conduct which the appropriate authority considers to be conduct and standards that are proper for registered practitioners and for assistants in a professional respect. The appropriate authority shall send to each registered person, to his address on the register, a copy of the Code and of any amendment made to the Code. The Code may contain guides to ethical conduct, standards of practice or scopes of practice.

Clause 28 provides that a person who is a registered practitioner in a specified profession and who has been duly issued with a certificate of registration is entitled to practise in the specified profession in which he is registered in Bermuda and to demand and recover any reasonable charges for services rendered by him in that capacity. Conversely, a person cannot practise a specified profession (by whatever name called) or practise as an assistant in a specified profession in Bermuda, unless he is registered in respect of that profession or authorized to practise that profession under clause 32 (as a locum tenens). A person, whether or not a registered practitioner, shall not take or use, or affix to or use in connection with his premises, any name, title or description (whether by initials or otherwise) reasonably calculated to suggest that he possesses any professional status or qualification as a registered practitioner other than a professional status or qualification which he in fact possesses, and which, is indicated by particulars entered in the register in respect of him. A person who contravenes this clause commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $10,000 and, in the case of a second or subsequent conviction, a fine of $20,000.

Clause 29 provides that a person who is registered shall be entitled to use the word “registered” to describe the nature of his professional practice, where that practice is the practice in respect of which he is registered. Conversely, any person who: (a) uses the words “Government Registered”, or similar words, to describe the nature of his practice, being that of a specified profession, and is not registered in respect of that profession, or (b) who takes or uses any name, title, addition or description falsely implying, or who otherwise pretends, that his name is on the register, commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $10,000 and, in the case of a second or subsequent conviction, a fine of $20,000.

Clause 30 provides that, if a person procures or attempts to procure the entry of any name on the register by wilfully making or producing, or causing to be made or produced, either orally or in writing, any declaration, certificate or representation which he knows to be false, he commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $20,000.

Clause 31 provides that, if regulations made under this Act limit the services that may be performed by a registered person in the course of practice of a specified profession, the registered person shall limit his practice accordingly. A person who does not limit his practice accordingly commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to a fine of $10,000.

Clause 32 provides that the Council may authorize any person who is registered to practise a specified profession outside Bermuda to practise that profession as a locum tenens in Bermuda for a limited period not exceeding three months and subject to such conditions as the Council may impose.

Clause 33 provides for the Minister to make regulations for the better administration of this Act and lists matters in respect of which regulations may be made. The negative resolution procedure applies to regulations made under this clause.

Clause 34 provides that fees for an application for registration or renewal of registration as a registered practitioner or as an assistant in relation to a specified profession are to be prescribed under the Government Fees Act 1965.

ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS BILL 2018

Clause 35 provides that the Council shall submit to the Minister, as soon as practicable after the end of each year, an annual report concerning registration, disciplinary proceedings and such other activities of the Council as the Minister may require.

Clause 36 repeals the Allied Health Professions Act 1973 and the Chiropractors Act 2002. It also makes a consequential amendment to the First Schedule to the Government Authorities (Fees) Act 1971 (to add an entry for the Allied Health Professional Conduct Committee established under clause 22 of this Act), and to Head 3 of the Schedule to the Government Fees Regulations 1976 (to change references to section numbers to those of this Act).

Clause 37 are savings and transitional provisions. The Council appointed under the repealed Act is continued under this Act. The Boards established under the repealed Act continue under this Act. A complaint against a registered person that, immediately before this Act comes into operation, is before the Preliminary Proceedings Committee or the Professional Conduct Committee established under the repealed Act, or before the Council, shall continue to be dealt with under the repealed Act as if this Act had not come into operation. The specified professions established under the repealed Act continue under this Act. A person who under the repealed Act, immediately before the commencement of this Act, is a registered person in a specified profession, on the coming into operation of this Act, continues to be a registered practitioner in the corresponding specified profession under this Act. A person practising a “new specified profession” (i.e. one that was not a specified profession under the 1973 Act) in Bermuda may temporarily continue to so practise without being registered in that profession, but the Minister is to, by notice published in the Gazette subject to the negative resolution procedure, appoint a date: (a) before which any person who at the time the notice comes into operation is practising a new specified profession in Bermuda must apply for registration in that specified profession; and (b) after which any other person shall not practise that profession, or be an assistant in that profession, unless he is registered under this Act. The new specified professions are: (a) acupuncturist, (b) chiropractor, (c) counsellor, (d) massage therapist, and (e) social worker.

Clause 38 provides for commencement and is self-explanatory.

Schedule 1 lists and defines each specified profession.

Schedule 2 has supplementary provisions regarding the appointment and proceedings of the Council and the Boards.

Schedule 3 provides for the appointment and proceedings of the Committee.
